UX & PRODUCT DESIGNER

Aaron Benjamin

I lead design for complex product systems, turning research into product decisions and shared models into shipped interfaces. Across marketplaces, education, commerce, and internal tools, I help teams clarify direction, work through constraints, and carry decisions into delivery.

EXPERIENCE

Senior UX Designer / Renaissance Learning

July 2024 - Present · Remote

- Led UX strategy and end-to-end design for K-12 classroom experiences across Renaissance Intelligence.
- Directed the design and launch of Renaissance Intelligence and contributed reusable patterns to the design system.
- Championed Object-Oriented UX across design and engineering to strengthen shared product models and team alignment.

Senior UX Designer / Indeed

October 2022 - July 2024 · Remote

- Designed Job Refresh, owning information architecture, interaction design, messaging, prototypes, and stakeholder alignment; it became part of Sponsored Jobs after six months of free availability.
- Addressed employers' closing-and-reposting workaround with a flow requiring substantially updated job information; employers reported less time and effort than reposting.
- Founded and operated a cross-functional UX working group to test, refine, and teach design methods company-wide.

Senior Product Designer II / Redfin

February 2022 - September 2022 · Remote

- Influenced product roadmap and strategy by delivering user research that realigned business priorities toward customer-first features.
- Conducted discovery and tactical research to identify user needs and business opportunities.

Staff UX Designer / The Home Depot

October 2018 - February 2022 · Atlanta, GA

- Designed curbside communication for a 60-day, 50-store pilot that reported about 90% of customers saying their order arrived when expected, 3.8-minute pickup with ETAs versus 4.5 without, and fulfillment-change calls under 10% versus a 30%+ baseline.
- Designed item-level price adjustments, piloted in 50 stores before chain-wide rollout. Reviews at 30, 60, and 90 days reported faster transactions, reduced shrink, stronger SOP adoption, and greater associate empowerment; exact figures are unavailable.

Senior Product Designer / Snap! Mobile

January 2018 - October 2018 · Seattle, WA

Led end-to-end design in agile, cross-functional teams, supporting a portfolio of fundraising products.
